

Colour Sergeant Colin Patterson Awarded Bar and Rosette

Colour Sergeant Colin Patterson ('Spike'), the CQMS at Church House (Germany) was recently awarded a bar and rosette to add to his Long Service and General Conduct Medal. This represents a total of thirty years loyal and distinguished service to the Crown.

Spike, who has spent the last three years of his Long Service career at Luebbecke, was presented with the award amid the entire Staff, for whom he has been a most dependable and good-humoured support. Although he joked about 'undetected crime', Spike assured those present that he would wear the new addition to his line of medals with great pride.

The Warden, Padre Lister, commented on how unusual it is to see such a bar on the LS and GC, saying that on behalf of the Chain of Command, it was a rare privilege to recognise such a remarkable achievement and that Church House could be very grateful for yet another example of distinction and dedication amongst its Staff.
